

Orient Electric's open space corporate office

Orient Electric's open space office design is aimed at fostering a collaborative work culture which makes way for more creative and productive exchange. The open, democratic work environment is a reflection of company's high-performance culture characterized by effective collaboration, increasing employee engagement and a strong desire for operational excellence.

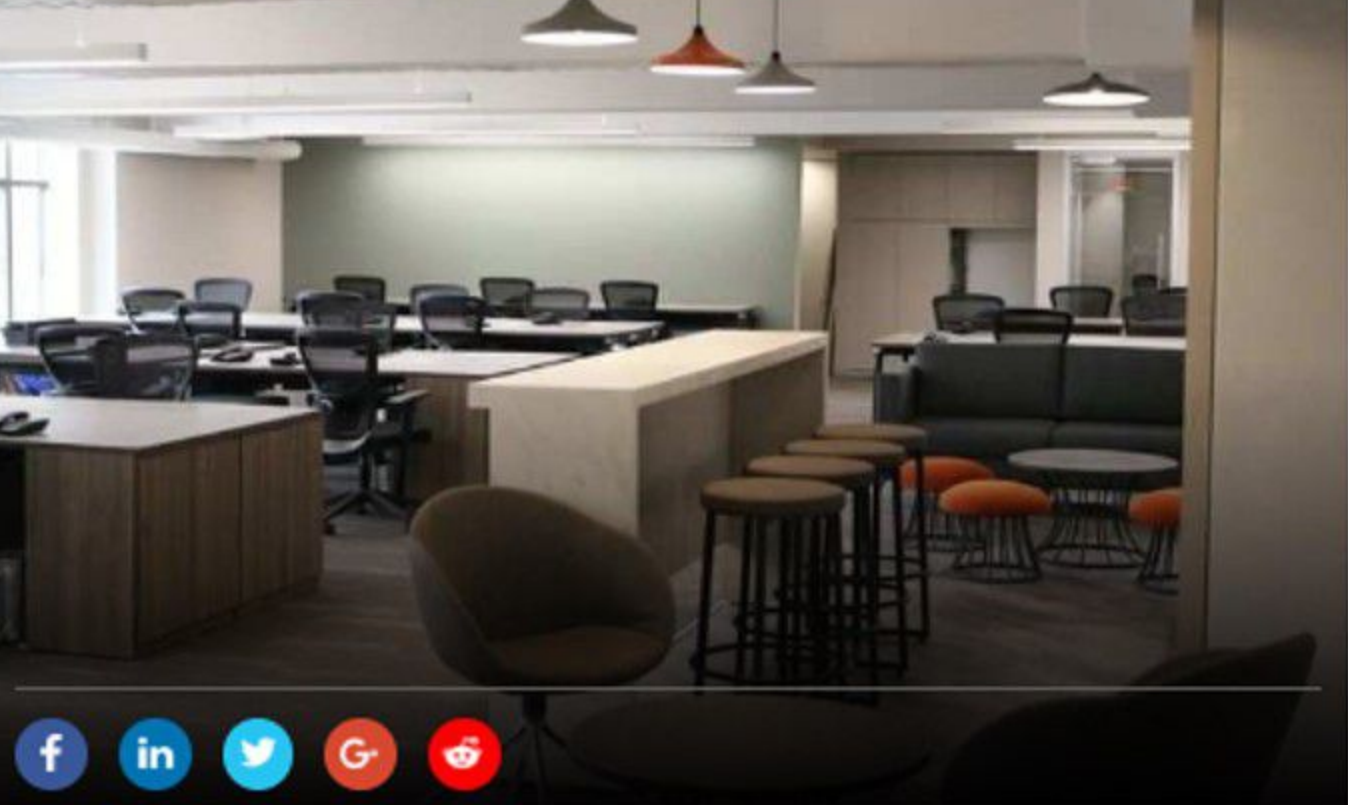

JUN 26, 2018, 05.40 PM

More of natural lights

With minimal rooms build around floor periphery, maximum areas of windows are released clear for maximum egress of natural light and views.

Paperless office

The company has also gone paperless with an aim to reduce its environmental impact while achieving time and cost savings

Main building

Outside view of the corporate office

Open office floor

Open office floor with team tables for close-knit collaborative working

Glass wall rooms

Glass wall rooms to make day-to-day operations more transparent

Cafeteria

Fully equipped, modern cafeteria at the rooftop.

Fully equipped conference and meeting rooms

Fully equipped conference and meeting rooms at each floor with room scheduling and booking provisions to ensure optimised and democratic usage of these spaces

Easily accessible central collaborative hub

Break out areas at each floor of the building for employees to take a break from their screens, relax and have informal meetings